

Antonio Fortunato

ESA

Antonio Fortunato is the lead EUROCOM, and deputy lead of Crew Operations for the ESA Astronaut Office. EUROCOM is an International Space Station Flight Control Room position, responsible for direct communication with the International Space Station crew. Because only radio communication is available, the communicator needs to have clear communication skills and a solid understanding of the technical issues.