

Prof. Geoffrey Steves

University of Victoria

Geoffrey Steeves is a professor in the Department of Physics at the University of Victoria and a finalist in the Canadian Space Program selection process. in the Department of Physics and Astronomy at the University of Victoria. Currently, he holds the position of Chair of the Space Physical Sciences Department at the International Space University Space Studies Program. Passionate about science education, Geoffrey is a co-founder of the StarAcer Academy, a program that was inspired from his experiences as a top 16 finalist in the 2008/09 Canadian Space Agency's Astronaut Recruitment Campaign.